CITY TAXES 1885.
Final Notice!

It seems to be the impression with some that it is unnecessary for taxpayers to come forward to pay their taxes and pay their taxes. Now, this is entirely erroneous. All city taxes for 1885 are now due. All taxes not paid by the 1st day of January, 1886, and on all of these taxes will be added the cost of collection. Several notices have been sent out from the city, but many have been thrown away and many have been thrown away. In order to be as lenient as possible, and to give the taxpayers a chance to pay their taxes, I will keep my office open for the next two weeks until February 10th, 1886, and will accept of all taxes paid on or before that date.

Samuel McVay, Jr., died at New Castle, Pa., last week at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William. Mr. McVay was the father of Samuel McVay, the Riverside nailer, J. H. McVay, a nailer at the Calumet mill, South Chicago, and Mrs. Kate McVay, of New Castle. He was 83 years old, and the oldest nailer in the country. This last week he died in 1875. He came to this city in 1839, from Pennsylvania, where he was born, and worked at the old Tom Mill and afterwards at the Tom mill, which was situated on the present site of the Baltimore & Ohio depot. At the latter mill he was employed until it was taken down to make way for the depot. He was widely known among nail mill men, and will be favorably remembered for a long time by the oldest residents of Wheeling.

Y. M. C. A. Talks.
Dr. R. W. Hallett's short talk in the parlors of the Young Men's Christian Association last night, was heard with profit and pleasure by the largest audience yet attracted by the "short talks." His subject, "The Christian's Duty," was a wide range of discourses, from the oracles of antiquity to the manifestations of modern spiritualism. The discourse was a learned production, gracefully delivered and listened to with close attention. Mr. Hallett being unable to be present, there will be no "talk" next Tuesday evening.

COL. TRAVIS CHOSEN TO SUCCEED MR. JOHN BODLEY.

Who Resigns his Position as Commissioner of the Police and Fire Department—An Interesting and Lively Reason of Council Last Night.

The regular meeting of Council last evening was one of the liveliest and most interesting for a long time. This was not expected and therefore the lobby was small.

The interest of the evening centered on the acceptance of the resignation of Mr. John Bodley, one of the recently elected Commissioners of the Police and Fire Department, and the election of Col. W. H. Travis to fill the vacancy; and on the killing of two ordinances drawn up by Hon. Alfred Caldwell, designed to annul the present ordinance creating the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners.

The first Branch the absentees were Caldwell, Donaldson and Kenney, while in the Second Branch those not answering to their names were Hildreth, Jaeger, Paul Smith. In the Second Branch, Mr. Grubb, who was the champion of the "short talks" in order that he and his colleague, Mr. Debrugge, might present a protest to the passage of the ordinance establishing the Police and Fire Board.

This was granted and the protest read and ordered spread on the minutes. It was a very plain and direct statement of the reasons why they think the ordinance is unconstitutional and should be annulled.

The ordinance was passed at a special meeting which was called for another purpose; 24, because it introduces "political legislation for the first time in the history of the city," 25, because it prescribes qualifications for holding office in conflict with the State constitution; 4th, because the ordinance shows a revival of the "odious Know Nothing spirit" long since banished by the people; 5th, because it prescribes educational qualifications for foreign born citizens; 6th, because it "branda as unworthy of holding public trust the liquor dealers, who compose a class of the wealthiest and largest taxpayers of the city, by forbidding them to hold office; 7th, because it prescribes a bad precedent; 8th, because it hampers the majority.

Mr. Caldwell suggested that others make a motion to amend and Miller, Healy, McKinley, Weir, Pickett, Weigert, Vockler, Robert Crawford, Scott and Harold stepped forward and added their names.

THE SPEECHES.
This overturning over Col. Caldwell called for unfinished business, namely, the ordinance on the table repealing the Police and Fire Board ordinance. It was taken up and rejected after numerous motions to adjourn and other motions calculated to delay business had been lost, by an aye and no vote.

13 to 12. Messrs. J. B. Crawford, B. Shanley, John Waterhouse and President Sweeney voting with the Republicans. Col. Caldwell then presented the resignation of Mr. John Bodley, who was elected as one of the two Republicans on the Board, and moved that it be accepted. This was done, and after successfully disposing of several motions to adjourn, proceed with other business, etc., by a yeas and nays vote of 12 to 12, the Second Branch was notified that the Second was ready to go into an election. By this time things had become well warmed up. Members had repeatedly left the chamber and been brought back by Sergeant Kilgore. Mr. Bodley in the center of the hall, in a very sharp manner, ordered the Sergeant to take a position inside the rail and allow no one to go outside without permission.

A JOINT SESSION.
The First Branch filed in the rolls were called and nominated a select for. Squid Schultz, nominated Dr. J. H. Pipes; Mr. Tracy, Col. Travis; Mr. Miles named John S. Taylor. Mayor Grubb, who was in the chair, stated that he questioned Mr. Taylor's eligibility; he was not of the same political faith as Mr. Bodley, who was elected to be filled, and therefore he rejected Mr. Miles out of order, stating that recourse might be had by an appeal from this decision. This raised Mr. Miles and Mr. Bodley to their feet, and a purely political matter.

Col. Caldwell rose to a point of order: Mr. Miles had been ruled out of order, and had taken no appeal. Mr. Miles was inclined to dispute the Colonel's right to rule out of order a point of order, and a sharp attack between them took place. Mr. Miles continued talking until called to order, a proceeding that he characterized as "a very arbitrary ruling."

Mr. Grubb appealed from the decision of the chair, but before a vote was had, Mr. Shanley asked permission to define his position, and as he had done for the past two meetings. He had been called a "knave" for doing as he had done. He had been called a "knave" for doing as he had done. He had been called a "knave" for doing as he had done.

Mr. Grubb then moved that the Chamber be adjourned until the next meeting, and that the Chamber be adjourned until the next meeting, and that the Chamber be adjourned until the next meeting.

The above shows 573 machines in operation at manufacturers' scale, an increase of 21 compared with last week's report.

Yours respectfully,
GEORGE WISE, Secretary.

Nail Mill Notes.
The nail manufacturers of this city left for Pittsburgh last evening to attend the monthly meeting of the Western Nail Association, to be held there to-day.

The Mingo Junction steel works started to-day to give the performance high men at work. They made three successful heats and will continue running single turn until the men become sufficiently expert, when they will go on double turn.

The weekly output of the Jefferson iron works is now 1,400 kegs and, according to the report of the superintendent, will be about 1,500 kegs per week.

The hands in the puddling department who went on yesterday are about 50 in number, including 23 puddlers who double up on the 13 furnaces started.

Seam will be raised in the boilers at the Steubenville Co-operative Nail Company's works to-day or tomorrow night. It is expected that the machinery for cutting nails will be in operation by Monday or Tuesday next. The company have a large quantity of nail plate on hand and when the mill starts up it will be with a three turn force.

"ALONE IN LONDON."
A Magnificent Melodrama at the Opera House Last Night.

"Alone in London" is a great play. It possesses what few of the spectacular melodramas which have become so common, namely, literary merit, and yet lacks nothing good, which other popular plays of its class have possessed. It is stirring in movement, interesting and original in plot, and abounds in thrilling incidents—none the less thrilling because kept within the range of probability. To say that the play was adequately presented last night is to give the performance high men at work. They made three successful heats and will continue running single turn until the men become sufficiently expert, when they will go on double turn.
